

Mathematics for Sustainability \(part 2\)/ Module information
/ Assessment overview

Assessment overview

Coursework

Mathematics for Sustainability contributes 50% of the coursework for Further Topics in Mathematics and its Applications.

In the early weeks of the semester, we will learn to program different types of simulation. The assignment will be a mini-project in which you will produce a simulation to investigate a question of your choice related to one or more of the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

There will be opportunity to work on your project and get help with your programming in class.